INSULL LIGHT TRUST TO GRAB CICERO?

Big Clash Tonight on Lighting Franchise Out in Suburb Dominated by Western Electric Co.—Two Trustees for Municipal Ownership May Stop Raw Deal.

A committee of 300 citizens will wait on the action of their aldermen in the Cicero town council tonight, when the ordinance selling the municipal lighting plant to Sam Insull's Public Service Corporation for $66,000 comes up.

At a special meeting of the council last Friday night the "Citizens" party tried to slip one over on the citizens when they tried and failed to pass the ordinance.

It takes a three-fourths majority to pass the franchise, and out of seven trustees two oppose it. They are the Republicans, Joseph Hlavka and A. J. Wyrzykowski. They stand against the five representatives of the "Citizens" party, which was organized three years ago to beat the Republicans. It was not until this year's election that they were victorious. At the last election they seated five members of the board and the president. Immense sums of money were expended in whirlwind campaign and now the people of Cicero have a hunch where this money has been coming from.

The sanitary district now sells Cicero power at the rate of 10 cents a kilowatt hour for the first 20 hours. After this the rate is 7 cents. This is $4.10 for 50 hours.
